The Internet Governance Forum's role in the Global Digital Compact

Dear Secretary-General Guterres,

I am writing on behalf of the Multistakeholder Advisory Group (MAG) of the global Internet Governance Forum (IGF) to express our support for your report "Our Common Agenda". We look forward to the IGF playing a key role in its implementation.

We fully support the proposal that the "United Nations, Governments, the private sector and civil society could come together as a multi-stakeholder digital technology track in preparation for a Summit of the Future to agree on a Global Digital Compact". We believe that the IGF, with its network of more than 140 national, regional and youth IGF initiatives, and its established community of participants from all stakeholder groups, is ideally positioned to play a central role in facilitating a consultative "bottom-up" approach to the development of this Compact.

We also welcome your calls for the IGF to adapt, innovate and reform. We would like to bring to your attention improvements to the IGF introduced during the past year in response to section 93 of the Roadmap for Digital Cooperation. These include:

- A more focused agenda based on an issues-driven approach towards the goal of a more strategic and outcome-oriented
- A process for documenting outcomes that would make it easier for decision-making forums to make sure of them
- A virtual preparatory and engagement phase held before the annual forum to maximise participation and enable synergies with national and regional and other intersessional IGF processes
- High-level and parliamentary tracks in the IGF 2021 program
- Two new policy networks, one on environment and climate change, and one on universal and meaningful access
- A communication strategy to increase visibility and outreach

The MAG also developed ties with the Office of the Envoy on Technology, and developed possible approaches to the multistakeholder high-level body (MHLB) foreseen under 93(a) of the Roadmap. Now that the terms of reference and a call for nominations for this "Leadership panel" have been published, we believe our proposals can still be of value to the Panel as it starts its work which we trust will complement that of the MAG.

With regard to the Roadmap for Digital Cooperation we include in Annex I a table prepared by the MAG Working Group on IGF Strengthening and Strategy that maps the different areas in the Roadmap to IGF activities. The table highlights the synergies between the IGF's activities and Roadmap priorities.

We look forward to your participation in the annual forum in December 2021 in Katowice. As stated above, believe it would be an ideal opportunity for you to discuss the proposed Global Digital Compact and the Summit of the Future with IGF participants.

Please accept the assurance of our highest consideration.

On behalf of the members of the Internet Governance Forum Multistakeholder Advisory Group 2021¹
