

中国网络社会组织联合会

CHINA FEDERATION OF INTERNET SOCIETIES

Promoting openness, cooperation, exchange and share of cyberspace.

Building a cyber-community of common destiny together

LEADERSHIP LEADERSHIP

President

Ren Xianliang
Vice Chairman of Social Construction Committee of the People's Congress of China.
Former Vice Minister of Cyber space Administration of China.

Vice President

Ma Huateng
Chairman of the Board and CEO,
Tencent

Ye Zhenzhen
President of People.cn

Liu Qiangdong
Chairman and CEO of JD.com

Wu Jianping
Vice President of Internet Society of China

Ma Yun
Executive Chair man of Board of Directors, Aliba
ba Group

Wang Xiaohui
Chief Editor of China.com.cn

Tian Shubin
Chairman and President of Xinhuanet.com

Secretary General

ABOUT US

ABOUT US

Introduction

As a legal entity, China Federation of Internet Societies (CFIS) is the first national, united, pivotal and non-profit social organization founded voluntarily by Internet societies and relevant institutions.

Competent Authorities

Cyberspace Administration of China

Key Roles

Leading Internet societies to develop

Motivating internet societies to give play to their roles

Protecting interests and meeting demands of Internet societies

Supervising and regulating behaviors of the Internet societies

Main Functions

Participating in the integrated governance of Internet ecology

Maintaining national cyber security

Promoting the development of IT industry and digital economy

Developing Internet public welfare

Regulating Internet industry

Nurturing talent for Internet and IT industry

Providing training and enquiry services

Engaging in international exchanges and cooperation.

Address: No.190 Chaoyangmennei Street,
Dongcheng District, Beijing

Postcode :100010

Telephone/Fax :010-55635839

Website :www.cfis.cn